COURSE DESCRIPTION

Advanced harmony voice leading, score analysis and writing of more advanced tonal harmony including chromaticism and extended-tertian structures. Optional correlated study at the keyboard.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon successful completion of this course, students will:

- Construct and identify extended-tertian and chromatic harmonies.
- Analyze musical compositions, which include various forms of tonal modulation utilizing standard roman-numeral symbols.
- Demonstrate proper voice-leading practices through composition in appropriate styles.
- Demonstrate concepts covered in class on the keyboard, including progressions that utilize modulation.
- Demonstrate an understanding of rhythmic meter and note duration through score analysis and composition.

REQUIRED TEXTS AND MATERIALS

Practica Musica

Dannhäuser Sight Singing textbook, Volume 1.

COURSE POLICIES

A. Practica Musica: Students can work on the computer Ear-Training and Theory courses at home or in the Rea Center (124 AFA)

B. Section assignments: Students will be required to complete the assigned materials by the end of the semester

C. Materials lab: The Center for Music Technology and Creativity will be available outside of class hours so that students may work on their assignments on the computers. The instructor or a qualified lab assistant will be available for help with the computer programs and assignments.

D. Setting up a Practica Musica account:

(in order to meet the course participation requirement discussed above, students MUST set up a Practica Musica account and begin work on the course requirements listed in the course outline by the census date. Students also MUST meet with the instructor for their initial Dannhauser session before the census date. The dates are listed in the course outline, so follow that link to determine the required date for your first Dannhauser session.)

When the students launch Practica Musica for the first time, a dialog box will open with a few different options. To begin, they'll need to click on

I don't have a student file yet; please create one and enter:

- Their first and last name
- A password (optional - not necessary to proceed)
- And their class WebStudents Account name - mcmus1

Hit OK. Their name will appear in the on screen menu and they can proceed with their assignments. A copy of their work will be saved to your Instructor's WebStudents Account for viewing.

EVALUATION OF STUDENTS

A. Attendance is extremely important to effective performance.

1. Students MUST meet with the instructor on a bi-weekly basis to discuss their progress and sing out from the Dannhauser text. The meetings can be conducted over Skype or Facetime if the student is not able to come to the office. Three consecutive unexcused absences, or a total of six unexcused absences during the semester will have a detrimental effect on the student's grade in the course. Students who are excessively absent from class should talk with the instructor about the reasons for their absence.

2. It is sometimes advisable for students who are excessively absent from class to withdraw from the course. When a student is excessively absent from class, he/she will receive a warning letter from the Dean of Students. The student must then talk with the instructor regarding his absence from class or withdraw from the course. IT IS THE STUDENT'S RESPONSIBILITY TO WITHDRAW FROM THE COURSE. Students with excessive unexcused absences who have not dropped the course will receive a failing grade for the term. This semester's withdrawal deadline is April 11.

B. Students are required to keep up with the assignments in basic music theory and ear training courses in order to complete everything by the end of the semester

C. Bi-weekly Dannhauser sight-singing meetings will be held with the instructor. During the meeting, students will be required to sing simple melodies at sight.

D. The Practica Musica assignments are listed in the course outline, so follow that link to determine what the assignments are, then work on them at your computer or in the Rea Center. Students must successfully complete the assigned Practica Musica activities and the Dannhauser sight-singing activities in order to receive a passing grade for the semester. Grades will be assigned based on how far the student has progressed towards completing the assigned exercises as outlined below:

A: All assigned Practica Musica exercises (see the course outline for the assigned exercises) AND the assigned Dannhauser Sight Singing exercises in Book I

B: 80-90% of the assigned Practica Musica Exercises AND the Dannhauser Sight Singing exercises in Book I

C: 70--79% of the assigned Practica Musica Exercises AND the Dannhauser Sight Singing exercises in Book I

D:60-69% of the assigned Practica Musica Exercises completed

F: Less than 60% of the Practica Musica exercises completed.

CLASS SCHEDULE

[Each instructor will provide a Class schedule. The schedule should include a outline of topics for the course - Which may be subject to change. There are sixteen weeks of instruction, including finals in long semesters - the length of summer and interim sessions vary]

ATTENDANCE IN IVC CLASSES
