Why Information Technology?
Information Technology (IT) is a growing job market. The numbers of jobs in IT field have grown and are expected to continue to grow. What does that mean to you? An Associate Degree of Applied Science (AAS) in IT can prepare you to step up and take your place in this growing job market. Midland College AAS in IT offers several options and emphasis areas.

How long will it take?
Degrees generally take a full time student two years to complete, 61-66 semester credit hours, while Certificate options range from 19-37 semester credit hours and can take from two to three semesters to complete.
Courses are offered on a rotating schedule, both day and night classes, to allow students to continue their degrees while employed.

After I finish my AAS, what's next?
All four AAS degrees will prepare you for entry into Midland Colleges (MC) Bachelor of Applied Technology (BAT) degree.
