Office Hours:

ALWAYS MAKE AN APPOINTMENT TO MEET WITH THE INSTRUCTOR!

Course Description:
The course focuses on the development of personal, social, and work relationship skills through the study of twenty-first century emotional and sexual intimacy factors within relationships, emphasizing relationship distress, dysfunction, and divorce.

Text required:

Goals and Objectives:

Upon successful completion of the course the student will demonstrate skills in decision making regarding in modern day courtship, will summarize the factors of bonding that produce feelings of love and attachment, will describe the process of growing together during the premarital stages of courtship, and evaluate the behaviors and strategies involved while exploring for a partner.

Student Contributions and Class Policies:

Class Participation means coming to class prepared and on time, having assignments completed before class, not in class, questions and notes are to be well thought and prepared. Attending to class activities and NOT doing other things and being alert and attentive during class is required. Voluntary participation, but not at the coercion or prompting of others, is required.

Preparation will take approximately 6 hours per week outside of class. The student is responsible for his/her own learning and professional growth. It is the student’s responsibility to conduct a realistic self-appraisal of what it to be individually mastered and how to best obtain this mastery. CHALLENGE YOURSELF TO GROW!

You are responsible for all work covered in class, even if absent. In the case you are absent; it is your responsibility to contact another student to obtain material missed.
Midland College does not tolerate scholastic dishonesty or academic misconduct in any form. Please refer to the MC Student Handbook for more detailed information on this subject.

CONFIDENTIALITY: These classes prepare you for a career in counseling. Some class discussions will deal with confidential material of yours and other students. Privileged information that is shared in class may under NO CIRCUMSTANCES be repeated or shared outside of the classroom. In regards to written materials, you OWN feelings, opinions, and/or insights may be shared. You are training to be professionals, act as a professional and use ETHICS! CAUTION: IF YOU ARE NOT SURE, KEEP THE TRUST!

Attendance is expected at each class meeting, unless you have an EXCUSED ABSENCE (refer to page 14 of the Student Handbook). Absences will be a factor in determining your participation/attendance grade. A total of six classroom hours of unexcused absences will earn the student an “F”.
