SUBJECT: Student Role in Institutional Decision Making

Student participation and presence at meetings including Midland College Board meetings and President’s Council are encouraged. Student Government Association officers and members are invited and encouraged to attend meetings by the president, or his designee.

Students are included on selected standing committees which make decisions directly related to matters which are of special interest to students. Committee chairman will identify and appoint two (2) interested students who agree to participate regularly. The Student Activities Coordinator will assist the chairman in identifying students if needed.

All committees may include students, but the following committees will include at least two students:

- LRC Advisory Committee
- Education/Information Technology Committee
- Student Admission Committee
- Student Advising Committee
- Enrollment Management Committee
- Developmental Studies Committee
- Physical Environment Committee
- Students will be included on all committees where appropriate

For departmental advisory committees, a minimum of one enrolled student shall be invited to each meeting. Those programs which would benefit from a greater level of student participation may elect to have up to two enrolled students serve as voting members. Students who participate in advisory committees shall be selected according to procedures developed by the program faculty and division dean.
