Notice: Students MUST actively participate by completing an academic assignment required by the instructor by the official census date. Students who do not actively participate in an academically-related activity may be reported as never attended and dropped from the course.

Course Description:
This course is designed to enable students to become familiar with study of the morphology, physiology, and taxonomy of representative groups of pathogenic and nonpathogenic microorganisms. Pure cultures of microorganisms grown on selected media are used in learning laboratory techniques. A brief preview of food microbes, public health and immunology are also included. Prerequisite: BIOL 1406, BIOL 2401, CHEM 1405, CHEM 1411 or permission from the instructor.

Text, References and Supplies:

Laboratory Manual: No lab manual
Students must have access to a working computer throughout the course, either through a campus computer or alternative. Alternative computers must be able to access the Internet and Canvas.

Student Learning Outcomes:
Upon completion of this course the student will:
1. To identify and recognize the differences between prokaryotes and eukaryotes.
2. Demonstrate theory and practice of the methods of microbial transfer, parasitism, and infection.
3. Demonstrate theory and practice of body defense mechanisms against microbial infection.
4. Demonstrate theory and practice of the prevention and control of infections caused by microorganisms.
Student Contributions, Responsibilities and Class Policies:
Students will be expected to comply with the policies outlined in the Midland College Student Handbook. Instructor policies concerning attendance and academic behavior are consistent with the policies in the student handbook. Regular attendance is required to do well in this class. Lecture and lab are considered as one class, so any absences in both sections will be combined in order to determine overall absences. Students are expected to complete each assignment, exam, and laboratory exercise.

The last day for withdrawal is published in the catalog and the current course schedule. To drop a course, the student must complete an official withdrawal form with Student Services.

Midland College does not tolerate scholastic dishonesty or academic misconduct in any form. Please read the MC Student Handbook on this subject.

The handling of living microorganisms is REQUIRED for this course. Some of these microorganisms are human pathogens or potential human pathogens. If the student is pregnant, immunocompromised, or has another special medical condition, the student should consult with his/her physician about these procedures.

A list of safety precautions is given to each student. If a student does not follow good safety guidelines or is deemed a hazard to himself/herself or others, that student may be dismissed from the lab and will be given zeros for the missed grades.

Attendance Policy:
It is the responsibility of the students to know the policies and procedures associated with absences. These policies are set by instructors. Excused absences may include, but are not limited to, illness, severe weather, and death in the family. Instructors will determine whether or not an absence is excused. Please visit the Midland College Catalog

Withdrawal Policy:
Students who have enrolled in a Texas public institution of higher education as a first-time freshman in fall 2007 or later are permitted to drop no more than six courses during the entire undergraduate career. This limit includes all transfer work taken at a Texas institution of higher education and to second baccalaureate degrees. This statute was enacted by the State of Texas in spring 2007 (Texas Education Code 51.907). Any course that a student drops after Census Day is counted toward the six-course limit if “(1) the student was able to drop the course without receiving a grade or incurring an academic penalty; (2) the student’s transcript indicates or will indicate that the student was enrolled in the course; and (3) the student is not dropping the course in order to withdraw from the institution.” Please visit the Midland College Catalog

Scholastic Dishonesty:
Midland College does not tolerate scholastic dishonesty or academic misconduct in any form. Please read the MC Student Handbook on this subject. Please visit the Midland College Catalog
Course Schedule:
This class meets for 3 lecture hours per week and 4 laboratory hours per week. For a tentative schedule of the class meeting and laboratory meetings please refer to the schedule distributed to each student on the first class meeting (See Instructor Handout).
