Course Description:
Principles of corrosion as it applies to oil and gas industries. Addresses the deterioration of materials, devices, and pieces of oil field (or other) machinery/equipment. Emphasis on terminology associated with metallic and nonmetallic corrosion.

Students MUST actively participate by completing an academic assignment required by the instructor by the official census date. Students who do not actively participate in an academically-related activity will be reported as never attended and dropped from the course.

Text, References and Supplies:

Learning Objectives:
Distinguish between the causes of corrosion
State methods by which corrosion can be identified, monitored, and controlled
Describe potential field problems, and select the most reliable solutions.

Course Policies:

Attendance: It is the student’s responsibility to read and understand the official Midland College attendance policy as stated in the college catalog. If students have excessive unexcused absences, they may be sent a warning letter, and can be requested to be dropped from the class. Students that are tardy, take excessive break time, or leave before completion of the day's exercise (including proper clean-up), may be counted absent. This will be at the discretion of the instructor.

Late work: Late work will not be accepted. If you cannot make it to class, it is your responsibility to email the instructor with your homework for the week.

Cell phones: Cell phones should be placed on silent while in class. If you need to answer your phone please quietly exit the room before answering the call.

Drop Policy: It is the student's responsibility to drop this course if circumstances develop that prevents his/her completion of the course. Instructors no longer have the prerogative of awarding the letter grade of “W”.
